

URGENT APPEAL - THE OBSERVATORY

IRN 001 / 0211 / OBS 024
Arbitrary detentions / Harassment
Deterioration of health status
Iran
February 23, 2011

The Observatory for the Protection of Human Rights Defenders, a joint programme of the International Federation for Human Rights (FIDH) and the World Organisation Against Torture (OMCT), requests your urgent intervention in the following situation in Iran.

Description of the situation:

The Observatory has been informed by reliable sources of the continuing arbitrary detention and harassment against human rights defenders and their relatives in Iran, including journalists and trade-unionists.

On February 20, 2011, Ms. Narges Mohammadi, spokesperson of the Defenders of Human Rights Centre (DHRC), was summoned to the Islamic Revolution Court. She appeared on February 22, 2011 before Branch 26 of this court, on charges of "membership of the Supreme Council of the DHRC", "founding the National Council of Peace"<sup>1</sup>, "assembly and collusion to commit offences" and "propaganda against the system". The Observatory recalls that Ms. Mohammadi was imprisoned on June 10, 2010 in relation to her human rights activities<sup>2</sup>, before being released on bail on July 1, 2010.

On February 9, 2011, her husband Mr. Taghi Rahmani<sup>3</sup>, a scholar, writer, journalist and human rights defender had been arrested by four plain-clothed individuals, ahead of the demonstrations planned for February 14. These individuals entered his family's apartment, without showing identification cards or an arrest warrant. The residence was subsequently searched and his documents were confiscated. No information could be obtained to date as to his place of detention.

The Observatory has also been informed that the health condition of Mr. Mansour Osaloo (a.k.a Osanloo), President of the Syndicate of Workers of Tehran and Suburbs Bus Company (Sherkat-e Vahed) and currently detained, has been deteriorating over the past two weeks. One of the arteries of his heart is said to be blocked. He has reportedly suffered several heart attacks and was transferred to hospital on several occasions, but the Ministry of Intelligence interrogators have systematically intervened to stop his treatment and to return him to prison. Most recently, he was transferred to Rajaie Hospital in Karaj on February 12, 2011, where he was handcuffed and foot-shackled to the bed. His family was prevented from meeting him at the hospital. He is currently deprived of phone calls to his family.

Mr. Osaloo had spent eight months in detention from January to August 2006, following a protest by the members of his Union against the non-payment of wages, poor working conditions and the company's refusal to recognise the Union, established in May 2005. He was then re-arrested in July 10, 2007 and has remained arbitrarily detained since then<sup>4</sup> in the remote top-security Rajaeishahr prison, where he is serving a five-year imprisonment under extremely harsh conditions, for "propaganda" and "activities against the State".

<sup>2</sup> See Observatory Press Release of July 2, 2010 and the Observatory Annual Report 2010.

<sup>3</sup> Mr. Rahmani has worked closely with DHRC and was due to be awarded the DHRC prize for the 60th anniversary of the Universal Declaration for Human Rights (UDHR) in 2008, when DHRC was closed down. He is also a member of the National Religious Alliance.

From 1 to 8 January, 2011, Mr. Osaloo spent one week in solitary confinement for speaking at a funeral that other prisoners of conscience had held inside the prison in memory of a political prisoner, Mr. Ali Saremi, following his execution. His pregnant daughter-in-law, Ms. Zoya Samadi, had suffered a miscarriage on June 23, 2010, after being attacked by Intelligence Ministry agents on the street<sup>5</sup>, with the apparent aim to punish the human rights activities of her father-in-law.

In addition, Mr. Gholamreza Gholamhosseini, another member of Sherkat-e Vahed, arrested on November 3, 2010, remains in detention in Rajaeishahr prison, without charges. Further, from December 5 to 19, 2010, Mr. Reza Shahabi, the Treasurer of Sherkat-e Vahed, detained upon order of the Ministry of Intelligence in Evin Prison since June 12, 2010 without charges, went on a two-week hunger strike, and spent a week in hospital after his health deteriorated. Mr. Ebrahim Maddadi, Deputy Head of Sherkat-e Vahed, is also still being detained on the basis of a 3,5-year imprisonment sentence issued against him on December 27, 2008.

The Observatory is deeply concerned by the constant harassment against these human rights defenders and their relatives and urges the Iranian authorities to immediately and unconditionally release Messrs. Gholamreza Gholamhosseini, Reza Shahabi, Ebrahim Maddadi, Mansour Osaloo, and Taghi Rahmani. The Observatory calls upon the authorities to release all human rights defenders presently detained in the country, to put an end to any kind of harassment against them and to guarantee in all circumstances their physical and psychological integrity, in conformity with the United Nations Declaration on Human Rights Defenders, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and international human rights instruments ratified by Iran.
